UNCT Iraq Quarterly Bulletin - May - August 2024- # 1 -

We are excited to share with you the first issue of the UNCT Iraq Quarterly Bulletin. This newsletter provides an overview of key activities and updates from the UNCT Iraq. Below are the key highlights for May, June, July, and August:

A New Partnership Framework for UN Collective Support to Iraq

Baghdad- October 2023, UN in Iraq, in collaboration with Government partners, formally launched the development process for a new United Nations Sustainable Development Cooperation Framework (UNSDCF) for 2025-2029. This framework will outline the UN's collective offer of support to Iraq's national development priorities, as articulated in the forthcoming National Development Plan 2024-2028, Iraq Vision 2030, and SDGs. Under the leadership of the Minister of Planning and the UN Resident Coordinator, and with broad representation from government ministries, departments, and UN agencies, a dedicated Joint Technical Committee (JTC) was established to ensure effective coordination and consultation across all sectors. The JTC held its first meeting on 28 February 2024, during which four main priorities of the new Cooperation Framework were endorsed. This was followed by technical sub-group meetings on 25-26 March to elaborate on the proposed areas of UN engagement over the next five years. Sub-national consultations were also conducted in Erbil, Basra, Mosul, and Kirkuk.

UN Iraq and Ministry of Water Resources Launched "Water is Life" Campaign to Tackle Water Crisis

On July 22, the United Nations in Iraq, in partnership with the Ministry of Water Resources, launched the year-long "Water is Life - Every Drop Counts" campaign to address Iraq's severe water crisis. The campaign aims to raise awareness about water conservation, the effects of climate change, and promote collective action to protect water resources. UN Resident Coordinator Ghulam Mohammed Isaczai stressed the urgency of upgrading water systems, preventing pollution, and investing in sustainable water management. For more info, click here.

UN's Strategic Role in the 4th Baghdad International Water Conference and Beyond

Baghdad - From April 27 to 29, 2024, Iraq hosted the 4th Baghdad International Water Conference (BIWC) under the theme "Towards a Better Water Future: Together We Can". The UN RC and the UNCT role were pivotal highlighting the UN's commitment to addressing water scarcity and climate challenges through regional cooperation. The RC underscored Iraq's obligation to the UN Water Convention, drawing on successful examples like Kazakhstan, and emphasized the importance of transboundary water cooperation for regional stability. Discussions focused on improving water management, sustainable agriculture, and climate resilience. The RC proposed a National Policy Dialogue within the Water Convention framework, stressing the inclusion of all stakeholders and the need for comprehensive coverage of water issues in Iraq. The RC reiterated the UN's readiness to support Iraq in implementing the conference's recommendations, fostering regional integration, and promoting sustainable water management solutions.

DSRSG/RC/HC Isaczai meets with returnees in Salah al-Din

Salah al-Din - On 22 May, DSRSG/RC/HC for Iraq Ghulam M. Isaczai visited Yathrib District in southern Salah al-Din and met with a group of internally displaced families who had recently returned from Ashti camp in Sulaymaniyah, east of the Kurdistan Region of Iraq. The DSRSG acknowledged the efforts of the Government and the significant progress made in ensuring the safe and dignified return of displaced persons. He also recognized the ongoing challenges that returnees face, including the need for shelters, sustainable livelihoods, and access to essential services. The DSRSG also met separately with Salah Din Governor, Badr Mahmoud Al-Jubouri. Their discussions focused on enhancing cooperation on the provision of support and services to newly returned IDPs. DSRSG/RC/HC and Salah Din Governor Badr Mahmoud Al-Jubouri launched the Salah Din Joint Coordination Forum, a platform aimed at improving coordination between local government and development partners to better address the needs of the community.

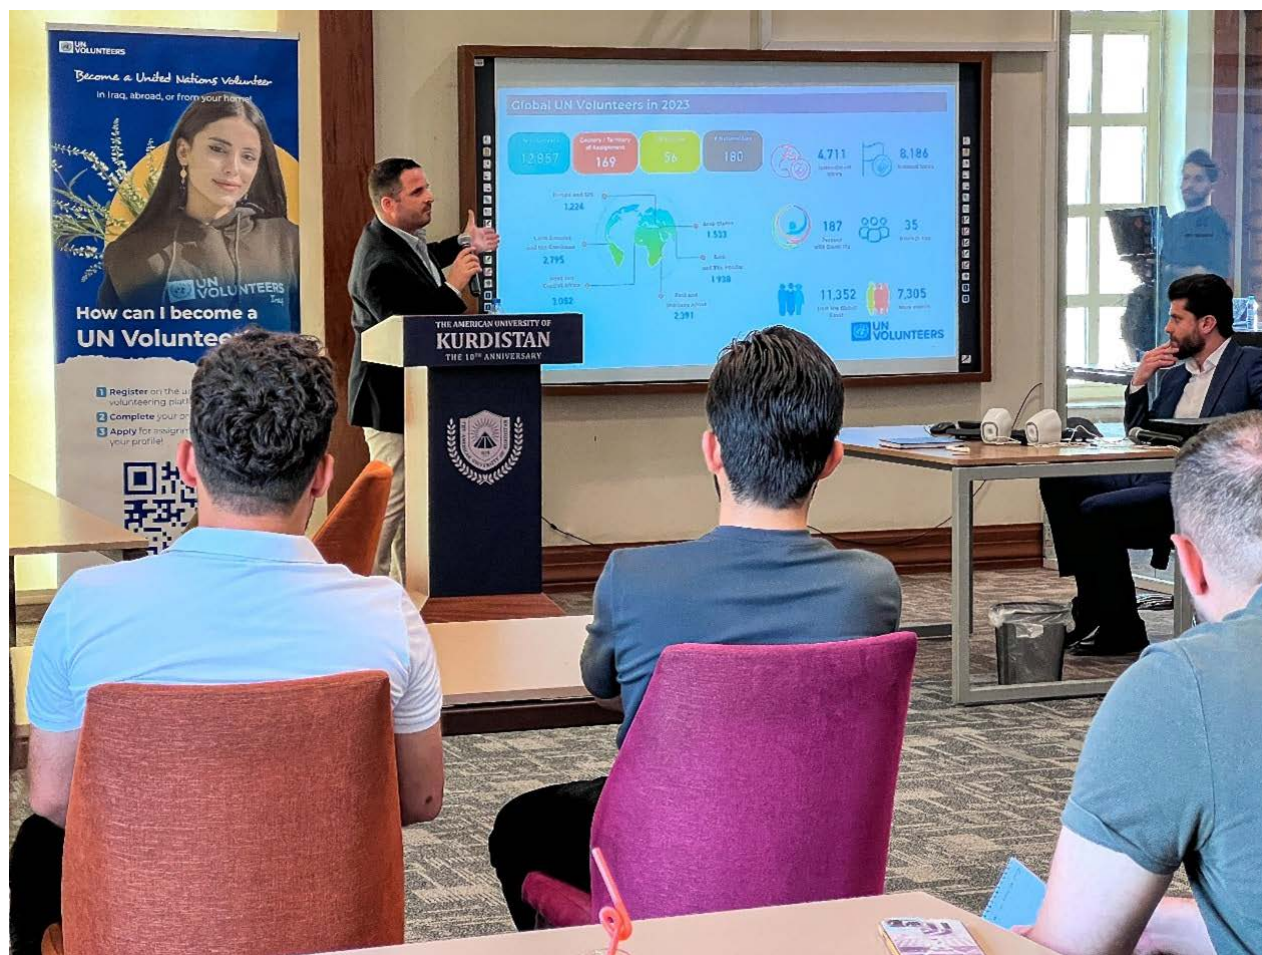

Strengthening Local Partnerships through JCF

Between May and September, the Development Support Office facilitated 14 Joint Coordination Framework (JCF) meetings in Kirkuk, Mosul, Salah al-Din, Anbar, and Diyala. Co-chaired by local governments and humanitarian and development actors, the meetings addressed key issues such as development, climate change impacts, and durable solutions. Discussions also focused on the challenges and needs of returnees to their areas of origin, improving service provision, and strengthening partnerships.
